You are a warm believer in love and you always have something to strive for and someone to grow together with. Even when you are alone, relationship with close people will Shape you, be thinking about, as if you are the point of understanding your own inner world

WOW just wow

Solofresh2

Magnoliaa:

That wasn't even my date of birth, so now I know you're just posting generic quotes to others, lmao. I can see bits of all your responses applying to me. Plus, no weaknesses or negative traits? I had my fun, sha. You can keep it up; you're not harming anyone.

They are not generic quotes and the fact that some of it applies to you does not mean it is for you.

Now show the owner of that date of birth if he/she doesn't not possess those qualities. moreover you can't see the negative traits in those qualities because of the level of your understanding.

Help me 5th November and 15th July. ABeg

November 5 people are doers and thinkers. They are likely to go with their instinct instead of analyzing everything before coming to a conclusion. They usually seek careers that require, at minimum, an undergraduate degree. They usually manage their finances, and they are generally the ones who set up budget rules.

As for the 15 July, they are strong orators. Someone with vision and knowledge able to speak their mind, write coherently and communicate what needs to be said
